SUBJECT: Completed Website Updates & Accessibility Improvements

Good afternoon Sofia,

I hope you're doing well. I'm writing to provide a summary of the latest updates made to your website.

We've now completed all the improvements requested in your previous review:

Accessibility & Performance

- The Google Lighthouse accessibility score has increased from 89 to a perfect 100 across all pages.
- The primary issue affecting the score was missing alt-text for images. This has now been fully resolved, ensuring proper compatibility with screen readers and significantly improving overall accessibility.

Visual & Functional Enhancements

- The manga-spread background has been added back in and professionally blurred to the ideal level so it enhances the theme while avoiding visual distraction.
- We've introduced hover effects and animations across the entire site, such as the homepage slideshow transitions and the colour-changing animation on the new menu button.
- The previous navigation layout has been replaced with a single responsive menu button for a cleaner interface across all devices.

Responsive Design & Styling

- CSS media queries are now implemented to dynamically adjust layout and styling based on screen size, ensuring full responsiveness on desktop, tablet, and mobile.
- CSS Grid is used throughout the site for consistent spacing, structure, and visual balance.
- The site has been visually modernized with updated styling, improved spacing, and refined animations.

Shop Page Updates

- A fully redesigned shop page has been created with a clean, organized grid layout.
- Products now display categories, pricing, and functional “Add to Cart” buttons.
- Consistent visuals, animations, and hover effects were added to improve interactivity and user experience.

Footer Integration

- A universal footer has been added across all pages, making important links—such as Contact, About Us, Terms & Conditions, and Back to Top—easy to access from anywhere on the site.

Pages Not Yet Updated

- The forum and anime review pages have not been updated yet, as we are currently awaiting your approval before moving forward. These will be included in the next development stage.
